

General Parrot Species Overview:

Cockatoos are loving and affectionate parrots. Some possess a limited vocabulary, perhaps up to forty words, if worked with properly. They can be a wonderful hands on pet for anyone, especially first time parrot owners. If you decide that love and affection are more important than talking ability and you want a cockatoo then we will help you to select the type of cockatoo for your lifestyle.

Congo Greys, Yellow Napes and Double Yellows are your best talkers. If you decide that the ability of your bird to talk is of greater importance to you than its affection then we will help you to understand the differences between these and other talkers.

Macaws are majestic parrots. Their talking and handling abilities may not be the same as the cockatoos, greys or napes but their size and beauty help to make up for that. If you decide there is a Macaw in your future we will help you select the right one.

At This Point, Which Do You Prefer?

For guidance picking out the Parrot that will fit your lifestyle, give Tina's Parrot Place a call at 701-710-1177 for a free consultation.